

NO. 91.

C. F. ARMORE, G. F. & A.,
Louisville, Ky

Stanford, Ky., January 19, 1886

W. P. WALTON.

THE retirement of Gov. Curtis from the Committee on Foreign Affairs, and the appointment of Perry Belmont to the position is pretty generally condemned by those who love fair play and dislike to see a faithful old statesman snubbed. The N. Y. Sun can not let the fact pass without a word of honor for this veteran from those who knew him in the days that tried men's souls, and who appreciate his extraordinary services at their full value. Twenty-three years ago Mr. Curtis was one of the most powerful men of the country. A man of exceeding energy, of abilities solid and always ready for use, democratic in all his thoughts, and animated by a weariless patriotism, he had a right to aspire to the highest distinctions; and now there is something almost tragical in the dignity with which he declines an empty compliment tendered him by the Speaker. It is in keeping with his patriotism and his fidelity that he refrains from a discussion which could do no good, and might create injurious disturbance; and, while we know nothing of the reasons that are to be alleged on the other side, it is yet with a profound sense of pain and regret that we see Andrew G. Curtis subjected to a slight at the hands of his own party, and repelling an indignity that ought, we can not help thinking, never to have been inflicted.

MAJ. RICHMOND, our usually amiable and good Senator, is mad. In fact he is very mad and we don't blame him either. What difference does it make whether he wears his collar button up or not? He can wear his shirt that way too if he feels inclined, and it will be nobody's business so long as he is in his seat attending to the people's business. And that he was doing the latter on the very day that the Danville Advocate's scribe made the base insinuation, the record will show, for he offered a resolution requesting the Assistant Secretary of State to report to the Senate the number of notaries public in commission in the Commonwealth. The value of such information is not readily apparent, but it shows he was "thar," attending to his business, which the "dirty dude" was not. Grubbs evidently didn't know the old man was loaded, or he would have known better than to have monkeyed with him.

THE Senate republicans, who seem disposed to pick a quarrel with the President in regard to certain removals, had the laugh turned on them the other day. They thought they had the dead sure thing against him in the case of a New York collector, who had been removed, and in hot haste they sent to Secretary Manning for the papers in it. They were promptly forwarded and among them a letter from the collector saying that he was not so much of a republican as he had been taken to be; that in fact he had not only refused to vote for Blaine, but had aided in the election of Cleveland. He begged to be retained, promising to remove all republican subordinates and appoint democrats, if he were permitted to hold his office. The democrats roared at the disclosure and the discomfited republicans voted at once for the confirmation of the new collector.

The circumstances connected with the death of Miss Katherine Bayard, the eldest daughter of the Secretary of State, make it peculiarly sad. Miss Cleveland had arranged a reception in her honor at the White House Saturday afternoon and the guests had begun to arrive, when a messenger came to say that Miss Bayard had been found dead in her bed. She was a sufferer from heart disease and it is supposed that it was the cause of her death. She had evidently been dead some hours when found.

THE pay of pro tem. judges is a heavy drain upon the State, which ought to be stopped. In Judge Finley's district the highest charge is made, $750, while the lowest is in Judge Mayors's, $21. Judge Oswley's district is charged with $126, and many of the other districts run as high as $500 to $600. The bill before the Legislature requiring that pro tem. judges be paid out of the regular judge's salary, with certain exceptions, ought to become a law.

THE House passed Senator Hoar's bill providing for the presidential succession through the members of the Cabinet, beginning with the Secretary of State, by the decisive vote of 183 to 77 and without amendment. The President's signature will make it a law and then there will be no chance of John Sherman succeeding to the position from which his party was kicked out at the last election.

THE telegraph informs us that Dr. Thos. W. Keene, a member of the Virginia Legislature, dropped dead just after concluding a speech in the House. This ought to be a warning to the several alleged statesmen at Frankfort, who think it is necessary to air their eloquence on every occasion. Dr. Keene had evidently overdone the thing as they are doing.

THE talk of the Legislature adjourning in 60 days is all bosh. A third of the time has already passed and with the exception of Offutt's Constitutional Convention bill, there is next to nothing to show for it. The body will have to hump itself if it gets through in twice the prescribed time, judging the future by its past.

THE Idaho editor who nominates Senator Beck for President in 1888, is as much in earnest and the compliment is as much deserved as if the old Scotchman could hold the office if elected. He was born on the wrong side of the Atlantic, unfortunately, for such ambitions.

THE President has fully decided not to accede to the demand of the Senate that he furnish reasons which prompted the removal of various office holders, and when he once makes up his mind he is as firm as the rock of Gibraltar. The demand is unreasonable and ought to be treated with contempt.

COL. DICK JONES, of Louisville, is somewhat of a wag. The other day when a bill was presented in the House prohibiting the killing of deer in Whitley county for five years, he moved that the word "deer" be stricken out and "man" inserted. The Col. has evidently heard how they kill men up that way.

WE are indebted to Gen. Fayette Hewitt, our excellent Auditor, for a copy of his report for the two last fiscal years. It is a most comprehensive document of 407 pages, finely printed and arranged.

A MAN living near Cleveland, Ohio, sold his wife for five cents and delivered the goods. We'll wager she was high priced even at that modest figure.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY.

—In the House 262 bills have been introduced to date, most of them of little interest.

—Magistrates in examining courts cost the State $11,900 last year and $26,328 for the two years.

—Senator Gilbert introduced a bill to continue the Superior Court and regulate the same. We knew it would come.

—The act authorizing Laurel county to issue bonds to build a court-house was reported favorably, and passed by the House.

—After putting for three weeks, the Senate has adopted the joint rules against local legislation. Now let both Houses go to work.

—The C. J. thinks that the bill to license the carrying of concealed weapons ought to be entitled "An act to legalize the raising of sheep."

—A bill to repeal that part of the penalty for murder which provides imprisonment for life, and make that crime punishable only with death, has been presented.

—Senator Cravens introduced a bill providing for an Advisory Board, through which all petitions for remissions of fines and forfeitures shall pass to the Governor.

—The House has repealed the law giving the woman three years to take out a bastardy warrant against the father of her illegitimate child and substituted one year instead.

—A bill to grant paroles to convicts is before the House, but it should be rejected. It is too hard to convict the average criminal, to turn him loose upon society immediately he is sent to prison.

—A bill to provide for the cession of jurisdiction over certain lands on Green and Barren rivers by the State to the Federal Government, after an appropriation has been made for the improvement of these rivers, has passed the Senate.

—On the question of furnishing the Statutes and codes to members of the Legislature, Mr. Bobbitt voted "No" very properly. Saying that the State could not afford to pay the legislators to study law. They should have done that at their own expense.

—Mr. Rowlett introduced a bill which provides that when any person indicted for a misdemeanor, and the Commonwealth Attorney compromises or settles with such persons before trial, or enters a nolle prosequi in consideration of money, said attorney shall become responsible for all officers' and witnesses' fees incurred by the Commonwealth.

—Offutt's bill for a new constitution was passed the Senate 25 to 7 and now needs only the Governor's signature to make it a law. It provides that a registration shall be made at the August election, 1887, at each voting precinct, of all the persons in that precinct entitled to vote for Representatives. The persons so registered shall be the true number of voters of the State, and if two-thirds of these vote for calling a convention, the convention shall be called.

—A bill was before the House to permit a minor to trade in his own name when Hon. Fontaine F. Bobbitt said: "Gentlemen, I believe that at the end of the session the man who says the least will be the most popular. This Legislature has passed the most of yesterday and to-day making men. Now, as women are infinitely more beautiful than men," waving his hand toward the ladies in the lobby, "why don't we spend a little of our time making them?" After the applause from Mr. Bobbitt's remarks had ceased, the House proceeded to vote on the bill, and passed it by a vote of 77 to 15.

NOTES OF CURRENT EVENTS.

—John Kelly, the ex-Tammany Chief, is thought to be on his death bed.

—The River and Harbor Committee will ask for an appropriation of $11,000,000.

—Eighteen persons are known to have been frozen to death in Kansas last week.

—The Davis carriage factory burned in Cincinnati. Loss $150,000; 200 men are thrown out of employment.

—Col. T. C. Bell, of Harrodsburg, is to succeed Mr. George DuRelle as Assistant District Attorney for Kentucky.

—Annie Barnett, a chambermaid at the Burnet House, Cincinnati, was killed by being crushed by the freight elevator.

—The House repealed the act for the propagation and protection of food fishes in this State, after several days of discussion.

—Representative Randolph Tucker, of Virginia, has formally declined a renomination to Congress. He says he has served 12 years in public life and wants to retire to quietude.

—Two freight trains collided at Winchester, on the C. & O. road, killing a stockman named John Griffith, of Ohio, who was asleep in one of the coaches. No one else was hurt.

—Three Mormons were convicted at Ogden, Utah, and fined each $900 and given 18 months in jail for unlawful cohabitation.

—A negro man 107 years old and who has 200 living descendants, was driven from the house by a heartless son at Barnesville, Ga., and free to death.

—Mrs. F. V. Logan died Sunday night, Jan. 10th, after an illness of several weeks. Her remains were buried in the cemetery here on Tuesday. (Somerset Reporter.)

—The Court of Appeals has affirmed the sentence of death against Robert Fowler, convicted in Union county of the murder of Miss Lillie Burnett, after outraging her.

—No storm in years was so destructive to shipping as the last. More than 300 vessels were wrecked off the Atlantic coast and many sailors and seamen lost their lives.

—Dispatches from Southern points agree that the orange crop for this season has been destroyed by the cold weather. Whether it has also killed the trees can not be determined until spring.

—Hon. James B. McCreary has received a petition signed by thirty-three Senators and sixty-two representatives of the Kentucky Legislature, asking the appointment of Col. Sam M. Burdette Revenue Agent.

—The republicans in the House voted at most solidly against the Hoar bill devolving the Executive duties on the Secretary of State in the event of the death of President Cleveland, only three democrats voting with them.

—By the bursting of a fly wheel in Harper's Iron and Steel works, Newport, Ky., a terrific boiler explosion occurred, wrecking the mill and injuring a number of persons. Timely warning by the engineer probably saved many lives.

—Mrs. Hendricks has received from the officers of the Senate the massive iron inkstand used by her husband in his private room at the Capitol at Washington. It is a handsome and unique work of art and worth at least $300.

—The republican Senatorial caucus, to consider the President's refusal to furnish reasons for removing republican officeholders, decided upon opposition to confirmations of appointees to places vacant under such circumstances.

—Senator Thurman writes to a friend: "You will never be gratified by seeing me in public life again. I am now on the retired list with my own full consent, and with no inclination whatever for active life except as a private citizen."

—Judge Cooper, in the Montgomery Circuit Court, has rendered a decision which nullifies the claim that local option legally prevailed there. The saloon men are, for the time being, winners, but the temperance party will appeal the case.

—Miss Jennie McIlhinney, of Stark county, O., will probably lose both feet, if not her life. Her house caught fire, and she stood on an icy platform in her bare feet and pumped water for half an hour when the thermometer registered below zero.

—George McCabe, a citizen of Dakota, was detected by his wife dropping a white powder into her tea. The good lady deftly changed the cups, and Mr. McCabe was hoist by his own petard. While in the agonies of death, he confessed the attempted crime, adding that he had already poisoned four other wives.

—Three willful murderers climbed the golden stair via the hempen line Friday. Henry S. Stair, at Nevada, Mo., for a double killing. His woman accomplice is also under sentence of death. At St. Louis, Charles Wilson, for the murder of a river mate, and Noah Merriman, for wife murder, at Ballville, Ill.

—The third and fourth class postmasters of the United States have an idea that they are not sufficiently compensated. They propose to hold a convention in Chicago on the 15th of February to discuss their grievances and lay a petition before Congress for a redress of the same. There are 50,000 of these distasteful postmasters.

—Senators Vest, Maxley and Harris, who were selected to call upon the President and consult with him in regard to the demand of the republican Senators for his reasons for removals, have performed that duty. They advised the President to stand firmly by his decision to make no concessions, but are impressed with the idea that the advice was unnecessary, as he is in a resolute frame of mind.

—United States Senator Anthony died at his home in Providence, and eleven Senators attended his funeral, only three of whom went from Washington. The Secretary of the Senate, the sergeant-at-arms, two assistants, the chaplain, and barber attended also. All expenses were charged up to the people, amounting to $1,539.88 and allowed by the Federal Government.

—A fire in Lexington, Friday, burned the store of Innis & Sons, insured for $1,000; the Lexington Opera-house, insured for $10,500, and the office of the Adams Express Company, with their extensive stables on Broadway. The hardware store of W. J. Houlahan & Bro. was also damaged to the extent of $5,000. The express goods were all taken out in time to prevent their destruction. The total loss will reach $35,000 to $40,000.

—This silly tale is telegraphed from Emimence: James W. Pollard, a respected farmer of Henry county, has had a queer experience. While he and his wife were seated alone, before the fire, a bucket of water was lifted by unseen hands from a table, placed on the floor, and then upset. Mr. Pollard took the bucket to the well and refilled it. A second time an unseen force lifted the bucket and emptied its contents on the floor. The bucket was filled a third time, and again it was taken up, passed between Mr. and Mrs. Pollard, stopped in the centre of the floor, and then upset. On another evening there was the same performance. The neighborhood was greatly excited over it.

GEO. O. BARNES.

"Praise the Lord. God is Love and Nothing Else."

FUTTEHGHUR, INDIA, Dec. 8th, 1885.

[CONTINUED FROM LAST ISSUE.] But how strange it is to have this all set forth on "The flag that braved a thousand years the battle and the breeze!" Yet it is ever so. And must be so since Israel and Britain are identical. But to return to our "Union Jack," and its wonderful "make up."

By laying St. George's cross over St. Andrew's we have the "Jack" of 1610-1801; the first being the date of the Union of England and Scotland, under the first King of Judah, who reigned over "all Israel," in the "Isles of the West." This was James VI of England, formerly James VI of Scotland.

Remember, Queen Victoria—"our gracious Sovereign Lady"—gets her glorious pedigree via Scotland and Ireland, from "David the King," in Jerusalem. The British, Danish, Saxon, Norman monarchs, though Israelites, were not of Judah's royal tribe—in which the sceptre must be found, "till Shiloh comes," as certainly as the priesthood in Levi. Where will you get this among the "Jews"—so called. They all with one accord, will tell you they are either of the tribe of Judah or Levi. But alas! they wander without a sceptre or an altar—"fugitives and vagabonds" with a mark upon them, so plain that the "shew of their countenances" betrays them, wherever they roam. They have never been "lost" tribes, as far as full identification goes. They can not reign or perform the holy function of the priesthood, outside the "Holy City," and that lies waste in the hands of aliens. We must turn elsewhere, if God's word is to be vindicated, and the "sceptre has not departed from Judah, nor a law giver from between his feet." We must turn elsewhere if Jer. 33:17 and its thrice repeated promise to the Levites, be not an "idle word."

"Jeremiah" and the gentle "Tephi," sailing into Belfast bay B. C. 580, alone solve the mystery—about it who will. Thence is the royal line that is destined to rule the world ere long; and earth and hell can not prevent it. Thence is the priesthood that has ministered at an altar—better than that on which the "blood of bulls and goats" flowed to tell of a Savior to come, and shall minister in all coming time, when the scroll shall have ceased to revile, and there "shall be no more a Canaanite in the house of the Lord." Amen! Even so; come Lord Jesus—Thou, the glorious King of David's time, and Priest "forever after the order of Melchizedek!"

But—returning to the "Union Jack"—so gloriously suggestive that I can not stick very closely to its mere "make up."

2. Now raise St. George's cross, and let St. Patrick's lie over St. Andrew's, and the three form the "Union Jack from 1801-1885 and ad infinitum. This is the date that dear "old Ireland" came in. And now, this "three fold cord is not easily broken"—as Mr. Purnell and Joseph Chamberlain ad id genus omne will find out sooner or later. The flag was called "Jack" by the sailors from the name Jacques, written on it in the reign of James—our first blue-blooded king of Judah's line, after the union. Now trace this. "Sailor-Jack," "French Jacques, Latin 'Jacobus,' Hebrew 'Jacob,' 'Our Father Jacob' whose crossed arms—blessing the Ephraim, over whom it was to wave triumphantly for so many centuries—furnished the frame work of the grand old banner. "Long may it wave!" Don't think me untrue to the land of my birth. I am not. But God's word is dearer to me than all else. And in it, I see so plainly, what I want you, too, dear reader, to behold. For to discover it is to rejoice with a "joy unspeakable and full of glory." Believe me—nay, believe God—that in the coming "glory," these very fulfillments of this "same word of prophecy" are to play a very prominent part. Happy they who learn betimes, to walk by the radiance of this "light—shining in a dark place, until the day star arises."

We are in the midst of exceptionally exciting times, just now. The daily telegrams from England—with Tory and Radical running a "neck and neck" race, for power, with all the tremendous issues on the result, that will make or mar the empire, the capture of Mandalay, without a blow, that lays the kingdom of Upper Burma at the mercy of the British Lion; and adds another province, larger than the State of New York, to the Anglo-Israeli dominions; and the startling changes going on in Eastern Europe, that seem certain to involve the "Great Powers" in a terrific struggle for supremacy. The complication appears of unusual gravity, especially to those of us who think "the end" is now not far off. Beyond all

"One star of Hope, one star alone, Can fix the watcher's wandering eye," and that is the "bright appearing of the Lord," to mount His throne and bring in the reign of Peace.

Bro. Inglis and wife returned on Saturday last and the Seelyes leave for Maine this week, to occupy their new station. We shall be sorry to say good bye to this lovely household. Bro. S. is the most fluent speaker in Hindustani I have ever heard. He speaks the language like a native. We are all, at last, in charming health. The devil assailed us most vigorously and venomously, in turn, but the LORD proved stronger than he in the conflict. We had no cause to go further than faith in HIM and the use of his means—oil and prayer, and we never expect to be placed where these will not succeed. Blessed pharisee! If anyone likes quinine, jalap, "black draught," calomel and rhubarb better I will not quarrel. Only I beg leave to choose the "way of pleasantness," for myself. Every one to his liking. Ever in Jesus.

GEO. O. BARNES.

To The Public.

We have tried the credit business thoroughly and we don't like it. We think we know when we have enough of anything, and hence on and

After January 1

—We will sell goods—

—FOR—

CASH EXCLUSIVELY.

We know this will meet with the approval of a great many of you who prefer paying the cash, and to those who have been running accounts we will say that we will offer such extraordinary inducements in

LOW PRICES

That you will find it to your interest to borrow the money, if you haven't it, to deal with us.

We know this is a new departure in Stanford, but we believe that all of you who pay your debts will help us in carrying this out.

In selling for cash we will save several thousand dollars a year in hire of book keepers, had debts, &c., and in order to make our new system popular, we propose to give our customers the benefit of this saving and more, too. We propose to make you a saving of from 10 to 25 per cent. on all goods bought from us. We will "cut" prices to such an extent that no one who BUYS and SELLS on a credit can meet them.

We wish right here to thank those who have given us their very liberal patronage in the past and ask the privilege of returning the favor by selling them goods CHEAPER than they have ever bought them before.

FARMERS & FLOWERS—You should use nothing but the Oliver Chilled Plow, because they are adapted to all kinds of soil and will do first-class work in sod or stubble. The mouldboards are thoroughly chilled, have no soft spots in them, and will scour any soil. Oliver's metal will not corrode. The heaviest coat of rust that can accumulate on it will be entirely removed by a few minutes' use. The "Oliver" is a thoroughly centre draft plow, having a sloping landside, which does away with the pressure found on all straight plows. The Oliver Chilled Plow has hundreds of imitators. No manufacturer will try to imitate an inferior plow. The "Oliver" has a record unparalleled in the history of plow making, from 1,500 in 1870 to over 100,000 in 1885. Your neighbors will tell you to buy the "Oliver" and take no other. It will break hard dry ground when no other plow will. I also have the Globe Improved Steel Plow, which is making a record here unequalled by any Steel Plow. Try them and be convinced.

LOCAL MATTERS.

"MIKADO" Friday night.
BULK Oysters to day at Saverance Bros'.
T. R. WALTON's advertisement will interest you.
EXCELSIOR weather strips for doors and windows at McRoberts & Stagg's.
A NEGRO named Prewitt was lodged in jail for stealing a hog from a man in the East End.
A MARRIAGE is talked of here, that will create somewhat of a sensation when consummated.
SEE our line of plows before buying. The biggest stock, best brands and cheaper than anybody. Bright & Metcalf.
HAYDEN & LITTLE will have their last auction Saturday at 10 o'clock. It will be your only opportunity to get goods at your own price.
A THAW and a rain Friday and Saturday took off most of the snow. Sunday and yesterday were colder with the prospect for more snow.
I HAVE no baker now, but will furnish my customers with fresh bread and rolls from Louisville. J. T. Harris, opposite Col. W. G. Welch's.
THE Rink will be open Thursday night this week in order to give the Opera House to the Leland Opera Company Friday night, when the great operatic success "Mikado" will be presented.
MR. H. J. DART is convinced that advertising pays. A two-line notice that he had hay for sale caused him to dispose of 8 loads since its appearance. He delivered it at 65 cents, but thinks of raising the price.

THE bridge over Logan's creek at Rowland came very near being crushed by an ice gorge. Two engines were kept constantly on it to hold it down and a large force of hands spent several days in relieving it of the great pressure of ice.

RAILROADS ought to be held to a stricter accountability in handling stock during a cold snap. The Cincinnati Southern side-tracked a car of fine mules far away from food and water, and allowed it to remain there four days. The consequence was that a number of the mules weakened by starvation succumbed to the cold and froze to death.

THE Creamery Company shipped 2,700 pounds of butter to a commission merchant in Louisville a short time ago and have received information from him that it is utterly unsalable in that market for table purposes. He also says that the butter of every creamery in Kentucky has been spoiled by the "experts" put in charge by Brent & Co., both in manufacture and in packing. Had the butter been in the proper condition it would have readily brought 35 cents, as it is it will hardly bring 15 cents. The man Hubbard, employed here, and who skipped between two days, proved himself to be a rascal, utterly incompetent for the business. A prosecution awaits him if he ever shows up in this section. The whole thing from beginning to end has been a costly one for the stockholders, who will not soon be caught by the pretty representations of a plausible Yankee.

RINK Thursday night, "Mikado" Friday night.

New Buckwheat Flour—New Krant—and a fine line of canned goods at A. A. Warren's "Model grocery."

FOR SALE.—One bed room set, wardrobe and room furniture. Going West. Enquire of F. J. Curran.

I AM opening the largest and best assorted line of wall paper ever brought to Stanford. Call and see it. B. K. Warren.

LOOK AT THIS.—15 lbs. best Granulated Sugar $1, 8 lbs. best package Coffee $1. All other goods lower than the lowest. Bright & Metcalf.

Two of our candidates seem likely to have a walk-over: James P. Bailey for Circuit Clerk and T. D. Newland for Sheriff. The compliment of a unanimous nomination could not be more worthily bestowed.

FRIDAY NIGHT.—Owing to the derangement in dates caused by the cold spell, the Mikado Company writes that it can not arrive till Friday night, Jan. 22, one night later than advertised. It will be here dead sure that night.

THE stockholders in the City National Bank of Austin, Texas, more than half of whose capital is held here, were delighted yesterday to receive checks for a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent. from Mr. M. C. Miller, the Cashier.

"WINK" ALCORN writes to Capt. Richards: "Don't fail to see 'Mikado' when it comes to your town. Take Miss Rose and you both will enjoy it. Best show on wheels. All who did not attend at Danville are cursing themselves for it."

NOTICE.—All persons indebted to Edmiston & Owsley must settle with J. M. Phillips by January 20th. If not we will collect by law. We have given you since August 22d and we think this time enough. We mean exactly what we say. Edmiston & Owsley.

THE MIKADO.—This Japanese success has had a huge run here, having fairly jumped into popular favor. The little maid, "Yum-Yum," as played by Miss Lillian Lawrence, is an attractive character, sure to captivate the male portion of the audience. Mr. James F. Kearney, as "Ko-Ko," the Lord High Executioner, made a tremendous hit, and Mr. George A. Crump, the Mikado himself, does that character proud and adds much interest to the last act. The company is a good one and deserve, because of merit, the excellent business to which it is playing.—West Virginian Journal.

SPEAKING.—Beginning yesterday at Somerset, Messrs. J. S. Van Winkle and J. W. Alcorn, candidates for Circuit Judge, and R. C. Warren and O. H. Waddle, candidates for Commonwealth's Attorney, have arranged the following list of appointments for speaking: Tunnel City, today; Hustonville, Jan. 22; Monticello, 25th; Parmersville, 28th; Back's School House, 28; Mill Springs, 29; Bronston, 30; Stanford, Feb. 1; Brodhead, 2; Livingston, 3; Wildie, 4; Crab Orchard, 5; Bryansville, 6; Woodstock, 9; Grundy, 10; Middleburg, 12; Alston's Store, 13; Danville, 15; Shelby City, 16, at night; Parksville, 19; Perryville, 20; Danville, 24; Creechboro, 26; Jamestown, 27. Hour of speaking 1 P. M., except at Shelby City.

THE SIGMAN CASE.—We have received a copy of the Trenton, Mo., Star, which contains letters from P. P. Ballard, of Madison, R. D. Cook, of Rockcastle, and a citizen of Mt. Vernon. The first calls upon the Missouri friends of Sigman to assist him all they can; Cook says that young Higginbotham had abused a Union soldier and was hallooing for Jeff Davis, when some words passed between Sigman and him. Mr. H. drew a club to strike Sigman, when he fired at him wounding him so that he died in a few days. The citizen says that Higginbotham and the soldier had a row at a house of ill fame; that H. shot at him and that when he ran to where Sigman was, the latter furnished him with a pistol and told him to defend himself. Just as Higginbotham halted in front of the house Sigman was in and saw him fire first, according to one report, the other that he tried to shoot, but Sigman got the drop on him. We give these extracts so that the prosecution may know the line that the defense will take as well as for the sake of fair play.

RELIGIOUS.

—The Brandenburg revival, in which Rev. S. X. Hall, of Louisville, assisted, closed with seventy conversions.

—Last year there were seven conversions to each preacher in America, and seventy converts to every missionary in Asia.

—The membership of the two Christian churches of Lexington now number 1,292 and steps are being taken to build an edifice for a third congregation.

—A protracted meeting began at the Presbyterian church Sunday and will continue till further notice. Evangelist J. M. Evans and Brother Joe Hopper will assist the pastor and great good is expected to result.

—The preachers and presiding elders of the Louisville Conference receive an average annual salary of $374.41. The membership of the Conference is 34,223; the average amount given by each member is $1.70.

—The funeral of Eld. W. I. Fowle at Lancaster Friday was very largely attended, a number going from here to pay the last tribute of respect to his memory. Eld. John Shouse preached the discourse from 2 Tim. 1:12 and was assisted in the services by Rev. Mr. Goodloe of the Presbyterian church, and Eld. Milton Elliott, of Kirsenville. The church of which he was pastor very generously paid his salary in full during the long months of his confinement and ministered in every way to his comfort.

LAND, STOCK AND CROP.

Hay for sale. Apply to H. J. Dart, Stanford.

—Dogs killed 6 or 8 sheep for J. E. Bruce Friday night.

—Mr. Josh Jones lost 20 shots and 30 chickens by the blizzard.

—W. H. Miller sold to Newt. Smith 150 acres of Green River land for $550.

—FOR SALE.—31 head 3 year-old mules. J. T. Adams, Camp Dick Robinson, Gardard.

—A total of 206,141 cattle, alive and as dressed beef, were sent abroad last year from American ports.

—There is absolutely nothing doing in stock in this section. We have not heard of a sale for more than a week.

—Joe. Swigert bought from Tom Moore his racing filly, Bonnie Blue, three years old, by Great Tom, for $2,800.

—A flock of sheep belonging to J. D. Gay, froze together in Clark county, and had to be chopped apart with a corn knife.

—Sunday's stock quotations at the Cincinnati yards shows cattle at 2 to 5½; hogs 3 to 4.05 and sheep 2½ to 3½ extra wethers 4½ to 4½.

—California probably beats the world in the size of its potatoes. Two of the pink-eye variety grown there last season weighed respectively 13½ and 10½ pounds. About five such tubers would fill the requirements of a legal bushel.

—The stock and tobacco barn of Mrs. Sallie Overton, in Shelby county, burned Saturday night with 59 head of cattle, nine horses, all the farm implements and provender. The cribs were filled with several hundred barrels of corn.

—DANVILLE COURT.—About 250 cattle on market; very few sold. Seemed to be very little demand for them. One bunch of 30 head of 1,200 pound cattle ran to $4.15 and were withdrawn. A few mules, but none sold. No horses offered. Crowd rather small and business dull.

—E. P. Jones, of this county, sold to Ben F. Spalding, of Lincoln county, last Tuesday, 20 head of mare mule colts from an extra lot at $95.50 per head. Isaac W. Terhune sold Wednesday 700 barrels of corn to W. P. Harvey at $2 with the advantage of a rise; the corn to be delivered the first of May.—Harrodsburg Democrat.

John Goff bought of George Becker 60 head of 1,200 pound feeding cattle at 5 cents. Elijah Moore & Son and Mack Evans sold to same a car load of 1,300-pound cattle at 4½ cents.—Winchester Democrat.

CRAB ORCHARD, LINCOLN COUNTY.

—Hon. John S. Van Winkle, candidate for Circuit Judgeship, was here on Thursday last, and found many friends to encourage his candidacy.

—The people of our little city are beginning to realize the good fortune accruing to them in the citizenship of that versatile genius Prof. E. P. Hawes.

—On Tuesday next an Edgar A. Poe Literary Society will be organized here with that accomplished gentleman, Prof. E. P. Hawes, as president.

—Mr. R. B. Ward sold to J. F. Stephenson 20 head of calves at $20 per head, and bought of J. F. Stephenson 30 head of 3 year-old cattle at $3.50 and 10 head at $4.40 per hundred weight.

—Miss Lillie Pettus, of Somerset, a young lady of remarkably handsome, classic features, is visiting at Dr. J. D. Pettus'. Miss Mollie Meyer, of Toledo, Ohio, will leave for her home on Tuesday. Veni vidi vici. W. E. Lee, of St. Louis, who has occasionally made Crab Orchard his headquarters in the past, is with us now on a visit. Mr. Thos. B. Carson, of Cincinnati, spent Sunday with friends here. Mr. J. B. Gilkerson, of Chattanooga, Tenn., will spend the remainder of the winter here.

—On Saturday night, as per programme, Prof. Hawes, assisted by "home folks" produced that good drama, "Once on a Time," and the most "side-splitting" after-piece ever enjoyed by an audience. The Professor is so proverbially good in everything that to speak of him in terms of commendation were as commonplace as calling Caesar brave. All rendered their parts well, especially that bewitching little miss, Minnie Myers, and that young and talented beauty, Miss Maggie Buchanan, who won from the audience a deep and earnest sympathy. By request the play will be produced again next Saturday night. All of Stanford are invited.

DANVILLE, BOYLE COUNTY.

—Mr. Jas. F. Zimmerman will, this week, retire from the postoffice and go back to his old place in the Advocate office.

The second party to the contract belongs to a Belgian-French family which has lived here for two or three years past. Mr. T. C. Wade and Miss L. A. Carter obtained marriage license on the 13th and Mr. Mike Hogarty and Miss Mary Joyce on the 14th inst.

—Mr. Wm. H. Hicks, of this place, formerly of Lincoln county, has invented a hemp brake which those familiar with such implements say is superior to anything yet constructed for the purpose.

It has seven swords instead of five as the old machines have, it "cleans itself" without any trouble on the part of the operator and is much easier handled. Mr. J. H. Davis has invented a coffee pot which is a very ingenious contrivance and by which coffee of a superior flavor is made from a much less quantity of the berry than is commonly used.
